Blues Drive Back the Brown Forces.

Umpires Call the Day's Work Off at Close-range Fighting.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

FORT RILEY (Kan.) Sept. 29.— Marching over a soggy field, swept at intervals by lightning, driving rain and mud, the men of the maneuver division carried their day's programme in splendid style. The work was without a flaw, and at the conclusion of the day's work the umpires pronounced it the most satisfactory undertaking that has so far been accomplished in the maneuvers.

In working out the problem of the May, it was presumed that a Blue force, with headquarters at Abilene, Kan., was operating against a Brown force, advancing from the east. A division of the latter army was presumed to have already reached Stockdale, Kan. Col. George S. Roden of the artillery corps, and in command of the Blues, was encamped on the banks of the Republican River on the Fort Riley reservation. His command comprised the Sixth Battalion of Engineers, the First Battalion of the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-eighth Battalions of Field Artillery, and the first squadron of the Eighth Cavalry.

The plan of the day for Col. Roden was to make a demonstration in force toward the south to gain information of the enemy, which he said can thousand strong. The Browns division, which was supposed to be encamped near the head of the river, under the command of Col. James Miller, of the Twenty-second Infantry, it was reported to Col. Miller that the command of Col. Roden was going north by way of the Pawnee River to capture him. He decided to attack and capture the Blue enemy, if possible, or, at least, to drive the latter from his direct line of retreat through Junction City.

The troops left camp at 8:30 o'clock, and thirty minutes after that time the sounds of the Blues under command of Capt. Farnum of the Eighth Cavalry, were sweeping northward, covering a front of nearly two miles. The Blues gained an advantage at first by seizing Mount Hill, chairman Frank Campbell of the State convention, Wm. M. Sulzer and other leaders, today, gave rise to elaborate plans to be adopted at the State Democratic Convention. It is learned that a tentative platform has been agreed upon, but it is said that some of its planks are causing much discussion. William H. Russell, Jacob Clegg, John J. Quinn and others are of the opinion that the platform should be brief and conservative, and, while branding the Republican party, should be so carefully constructed, as not to pledge the Democratic party to policies which, if elected, it could not carry out without danger to themselves.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) MANILA, Sept. 29.— By Manila, Capt. Pershing of the Eighth Cavalry came through the long grass at headlong speed. The horses were urged to the utmost, and the wheels of the carriage bounded frequently from the ground as the battery dashed into position on the crest. It was ready for action in a twinkling, and then ensued a wait of nearly forty minutes before any of the Browns made their appearance. Glances were trained on the hills to the right, and Capt. Pershing, with his scouts pushed to the front, believing that the main army of the Browns would be deployed in that direction.

However, instead of operating in front, Col. Miller was marching around the right of the Blue and endeavoring to gain the upper hand. On the horizon line, a form about one-half the size of a pin could be seen. There were the Brown scouts working in toward the right, and the rear of the Blues. Three times Marsh's battery changed from the crest and finally, in defiance of Brown infantry, appeared upon the hill, and away, the battery wheeled once more, this time to the right, and opened a heavy fire upon the rebels. No attempt was made at this time, nor throughout the day's maneuvers, to use the batteries rapidly. It was simply a question of time, and it is reported that he was seen and that he was where the batteries could riddle him, if they were so disposed. The umpires declared that the battery is used to its maximum efficiency, and decide points accordingly.

Despite the fact that the gunners were not able to keep up with what they would be in actual warfare, the shots came with considerable rapidity. Suddenly, when Marsh's battery was passing the ridge, a shell exploded in the air, and the gunners, lying flat upon the ridge, a mile away, there came an answering flame from a hill one mile in the rear of the Browns. It was then that the gunners received their support.

A lively artillery duel commenced between the batteries, and occasionally, in the lull of the roar of the guns, the sharp crack of the Krag-Jorgensens, proving that the scouts of the opposing forces were continually in contact.

The battle of maneuvering as blue infantry came marching up the hill and hurried off to the right of the battery. The rebels were already visible, coming on steadily through the grass. Their advance was cleverly made, and every advantage was taken of the ground, the last in the tall grass, which a man very effectively. When advances are made in line over ground devoid to a large extent of trees and other objects behind which considerable cover is to be had, the rebels are easily distinguished.

Four Men Arrested on Charge of Robbing Mail Carrier of Registered Mail Valued $100.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.— Through the conviction of a convict, who was serving a sentence in the penitentiary at Jefferson City, Postoffice Inspector Dice late this afternoon caused the arrest of five persons in St. Louis on the charge of having robbed Oscar Kosling, a mail carrier, of mail valued $100 on the night of December 17, 1901.

The persons under arrest are Jack Plicker and Tom Conif, employees in the City Register office, John Conif, who was the receiver of John Crook, known around town, and Emma Higgins.

Conif was bound over to the sum of $500, and the robbery at Hobbs, N.M., is reported that the totals for the islands are 70,230 cases and 48,402 debts. But the actual total of cases is estimated to be about 100,000, with debts in proportion.

CHOLERA IN SAMAR.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

MANILA, Sept. 29.— By Manila, Capt. Cholera threatens to depopulate the island of Samar. The population of many towns has been reduced through death and the flight of panic-stricken people. Many of the dead are unburied and the government is sending surgeons and medicine to fight the disease. The epidemic, lying flat upon the ridge, a mile away, there came an answering flame from a hill one mile in the rear of the Browns. It was then that the gunners received their support.

A lively artillery duel commenced between the batteries, and occasionally, in the lull of the roar of the guns, the sharp crack of the Krag-Jorgensens, proving that the scouts of the opposing forces were continually in contact.

Leaders Trying to Formulate a Platform—Shying at Money Question.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

SARATOGA (N. Y.) Sept. 29.— Three important facts were developed with regard to the Democratic State convention here yesterday. First, Judge Parker's particular friends, a neighbor and a former State committeeman from his district, brought Judge Parker's absolute refusal to accept a nomination for the Governorship, even by acclamation, to the attention of the members of Brooklyn, arrived and took charge of the Kings county delegation in favor of Bird S. Cole, and third, a strong opposition movement was started toward Senator Hill the candidate.

At midnight it looked as though Senator Hill, controlling the convention, would be nominated, but the members, who like Mr. Cole, are strong with the up-State and Kings county delegates, or a second attack that the umpires called a halt in order to discuss the situation. It was decided, however, to postpone the vote as close as possible, and the members of the maneuver division, who would simply mean close-range fighting, would decide the war for the day.

Tomorrow's programme is to be the attack and defense of a convoy. The latter will consist of fully loaded wagons, and the former of a team of drivers.

LABOR. MYSTERIOUS CONFERENCE.

Efforts to Settle Big Coal Strike.

Strike Leaders Meet in Philadelphia.

Result of Their Deliberations
Kept Secret—Lawlessness Still Continues.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—A mysterious conference took place in this city today between President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America; Secretary Nichols, P. Wilson, District Presidents Nichols, Dwyer and Fahy and an unknown person, whose identity the other parties to the conference refused to divulge.

A member of Mr. Mitchell's party was described as having the use of his name, made the following statement:

"Any one can readily understand that only a matter of the first importance would bring President Mitchell, Secretary Nichols, Dwyer and District Presidents to this city together. There must necessarily be continued conferences and negotiations with the coal-operating interests before the strike can be settled."

Wilson and Nichols arrived at 7 o'clock this morning from Pittsburgh, where they had held a conference last Friday. The three district presidents and John Keegan, business agent of the International Association of Machinists, met the miners' spokesman at railhead station.

After a hasty breakfast, the party proceeded to the offices of Mr. Keegan.

After returning there about thirty minutes President Mitchell and his associates and the two miners' leaders met again at the railhead station.

At the conclusion of the conference

Mr. Mitchell and the three district presidents left for Wilkes-Barre to meet with Wilkes-Barre and Secretary Wilson departed for Indianapolis. Senator Quay was not in the city, and Senator Tyron denied having any communication directly or indirectly with Mr. Mitchell.

Before leaving the city, Mr. Wilson said:

"You can state emphatically that my visit has nothing to do with politics, and is without political significance."

President Nichols declined positively to make any statement concerning the objects of his visit here.

OPERATORS FIRM.

WILL NOT BOW TO UNION.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—John Markle, treasurer of the operators, told the statement of President Mitchell, said:

"Mr. Mitchell is not voicing the sentiment of the majority of the miners in the anthracite coal fields when he says the sentiment of the miners is against returning to work. All his statements have been refuted by the operators."

"But what is New York to do for coal?" he was asked.

"If a condition of anarchist exists in New York who will not work, you can't have the troops called out and protection afforded you. That is what we want. Give us protection, and we will give you the coal you want," said Mr. Markle.

Markle said the Catholic societies and other societies would have any effect in changing the policy of the operators. Mr. Markle said:

"On the contrary, their endeavors will have but one tendency—to prolong the strike. The well-meaning efforts of the operators will only serve to inspire the miners with hope and induce them to hold out a little while longer, to their own detriment. They will only prolong the period of conflict."

Mr. Mitchell's administration will not be recognized under any circumstances."

There is still no fixed price for coal in New York. Some miners were selling anthracite at $1 a ton today, and others were selling as low as $4 and $5. The price generally asked for soft coal is $1.50.

Several battalions of troops are supporting the revolution. Many Bolivians, who have been taken prisoners, have been well treated.

The shocks lasted three minutes, and were simultaneous all along the coast. From 100 to 150 men of the men aboard were under seas and buried. The passengers were carpenters, repair men and pump men for the Richards company. They were on their way to work at the Pennsylvania coal田 in Belize. The Ridge were pulled off a trolley car by a mob and severely beaten.

DOUBTFUL RELIEF.

COAL ROADS RECEIVERSHIP.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Among those in this city interested in the railroad and other companies affected by the suit brought in Boston to put these companies into the hands of a receiver, owing to the coal strike, the opinion general is that no relief can be expected from such action. Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad, is quoted as having said: "From my point of view, the question purely. They can, under the law, put the coal roads into the hands of a receiver, but I don't see that that will be slow or of accomplishment by the proposed method that the practical results will be of little value."

CRESCENT CITY STRIKES.

CARS STOPPED LIGHTS OUT.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—Fifteen hundred employees of the New Orleans Street Railway Company struck this morning on account of the refusal of the company to grant their demands for higher wages and shorter hours, and an end result is not in sight. It is denied at the department that Dunn's trip is for the purpose of investigating the Chinese. He is said to confer with Dunn regarding certain new regulations, and to devise means of stopping the Chinks in the exclusion walls along the northern and southern borders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank P. Sargent, Commissioner-General of Immigration, left Washington from Montreal, and will leave soon after for San Francisco to look into immigration matters on the Coast.

The Treasury Department has again heard of efforts to secure the removal of James R. Dunn, as Chinese inspector, but attributes the efforts to the Chinese corporations, which Dunn has compelled to obey the exclusion laws. This influence is not sufficient to secure Dunn's removal, and unless Commissioner-General Sargent, is induced to take up the case during his visit to San Francisco, it is probable that the Dunn administration will be endorsed. It is denied at the department that Dunn's trip is for the purpose of investigating the Chinese. He is said to confer with Dunn regarding certain new regulations, and to devise means of stopping the Chinks in the exclusion walls along the northern and southern borders.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and acceptable workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently been agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1899, and the end of September, 1902, aggregated $6,000,000, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $75,000 per year. These never have been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has The Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its labor policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

H. G. OTIS, President and General Manager.

Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or even dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our devoted malignants are stopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no credence to contemporary hostile assaults upon The Times management in the matter of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. Falsehood must yield to truth.

CIRCULATION.

The average daily circulation of THE TIMES, Sundays included, for August, 1902, was 31,777 copies, being an average daily gain over August, 1901, of 4978 copies.

The average net daily circulation (Sundays included) of THE TIMES for the eight months from January 1, 1902, to August 31, 1902, inclusive, was 30,941 copies.

The average circulation of the SUNDAY TIMES (including the Magazine) for every Sunday during the eight months ending August 31, 1902, was 45,093 copies.

The average daily circulation by years since 1895, together with the increase from time to time, is shown above under the sub-head of "Circulation."

BUSINESS.

The clearing of the Los Angeles clearinghouse yesterday amounted to $4,625,666, as compared with $291,624 for the corresponding period of last year. This comparison shows excellent business growth and conditions.

Values were lower for wheat at Chicago, for several reasons. There was no market trading for other cereals. The stock market opened weak at New York, and liquidation was continued in varying degrees all day.

THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

As the net result of the work which for several weeks has engaged the attention of the Charter Revision Committee, nineteen proposed amendments were submitted to the Council. It is perhaps too early to speak in definite terms of the merits of all of these proposed amendments to the municipal constitution. It is certain that some of them are of questionable utility. It seems equally certain that others are of decided value, and will, if adopted, make the amended charter a great improvement over the present defective instrument. There will be time, between now and the date of the election, for a pretty thorough discussion of the proposed amendments, and this discussion should familiarize the average voter with the merits and demerits of the several changes which are proposed.

There is not much doubt that every good citizen will approve the amendment placing several departments of the municipal government on a civil-service basis. This is a long step in the direction of better city government, as it will tend directly toward minimizing the influence of the politician and the cohesive power of the political "pull." This amendment should receive the endorsement of the electors, even though all others may be defeated.

The amendments relating to the "initiative," the "referendum," and the "recall" are also to be commended as measures which it is desirable to have incorporated in the city's organic law. The initiative will enable the people themselves, through a petition representing a definite percentage of voters, to initiate municipal legislation. The referendum will place in the hands of voters the power to annul objectionable ordinances.

Teddy's Terror, who ride rough and shoot loud, were much in evidence Saturday night, and the way they tem-voted of the city power to remove any official, for cause, if a majority decide in favor of his removal.

Whether the provisions of this amendment are sufficiently explicit to prevent abuses can not be finally determined until the full text of the amendment shall have been published.

Candidate Lane may be a very fine gentleman, but the party he represents is on the black list of the voters of the United States and hence they will none of the man who is the candidate, nor of his party of disaster.

The eight years of Grover Cleveland's effectually cured the Yankee spirit of sucking eggs.

A WAY TO REACH ROUMANIA.

A. The government of Roumania has paid no attention to the recent protest of the United States against the cruel and unjust treatment of Jews in the former country. More than this, a statement has been made—though perhaps not by authority—that no attention will be paid to our protest, and that no steps will be taken to ameliorate the condition of the Jewish population.

The amendment relative to the water department appears to be meticulous in every respect, with the exception that it gives the people no opportunity to vote directly, yes or no, on the proposition to pay the water bonds, in whole or in part, out of the waterworks income funds. The attitude of The Times on this question is so well known that it need not here be restated in detail. This amendment should have made specific provision for paying the principal and interest of the water bonds by general tax. As the master stands, the people are afforded no opportunity to make the payment of the bonds in that way mandatory.

The Times believes that an amendment should have been submitted providing for the election of Councilmen by vote of the electors at large, instead of by wards, as under the present system. The people are given no chance to vote on this question. If afforded an opportunity they would undoubtedly approve such an amendment by an overwhelming majority, for it is clear that the election of Councilmen by general vote would tend to improve the character of the Council as a body.

As stated above, it is too early to pass final opinion on all the proposed amendments. The Charter Revision Committee, while it has not succeeded in pleasing everybody, has done a great amount of work which should be commended. The members of the committee have served the city practically without compensation, and their conscientiousness is unquestioned, though some of their work may be open to criticism.

The fact should be borne in mind that the proposed amendments are to be voted on separately. Each one must stand on its own merits. This will afford voters an opportunity to discriminate in favor of those whom they regard as good, and against those whom they do not approve.

Every intelligent voter should be able, between now and election day, to decide for himself as to how he will vote on the various propositions.

The money market is once more on the sunny side of Easy street, and it is time to shoot the bullet. Pierpont Morgan and John D. Rockefeller, that same is indebted for helping it out of the straitened hole it was bottled up in. That there was selfishness in their action must be claimed, but that does not render the noble service in their selflessness is not to be denied.

The fact is that in these days of great operations and monster operators, as capitalists go, we are all about the same boat, or near together on the economic sea that in case of a storm will be jolted about alike. The tie that binds these days, is the financial bond, and there are none so insignificant as not to feel the weight of some of the strands thereof.

Teddy's Terror, who ride rough and shoot loud, were much in evidence Saturday night, and the way they tem-

THE MEN AND THE QUESTION.

Candidate Lane's appeal for votes seems to be based almost solely upon the ambition of the gentleman from San Francisco to become Governor, and not upon any great thing that his party has accomplished in the past, or that it hopes to accomplish in the future. If we are to elect men to high office in the State simply because they have an overwhelming desire to hold office, then parties, and party principles, might as well be done away with, and the making of party platforms be permitted to cease.

As between men, there is no question as to the character of the two candidates who are running for the gubernatorial office in California. Dr. Pardee has been tried in an official capacity and not found wanting. Candidate Lane has been the attorney of the county of San Francisco, in which position he seems to have made a fairly good record, but that he has had the experience to govern this great State of great interests, has by no means been demonstrated. That he was put in training for the Governorship when he was nominated for the District Attorney's office there is every reason to believe.

But the question, today, in California, is not one of men so much as of principles—and national principles at that. Let us agree that the two candidates are of equal ability and experience if it shall so please us, and what then? The then is, that it remains for California to strengthen the hands of the Republican party in the nation that the wonderful prosperity now prevalent throughout the United States shall continue, that the full dinner pail shall remain full, and that the working man shall keep his job. He can only keep his job by a continuance of a national policy that will advance American commerce, and that is what the Republicans of the nation have been standing for more than forty years.

As in 1896 and 1900 the little tin pail is still a factor in the fight, in California as well as in all other sections of the Union. The little tin pail has been filled by Republican statesmanship, and by the economic principles of that great party of progress. It will be kept filled so long as the voters of the land shall see fit to continue the Republican party in power.

Candidate Lane may be a very fine gentleman, but the party he represents is on the black list of the voters of the United States and hence they will none of the man who is the candidate, nor of his party of disaster.

The result of its tax policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

Although the comet is small, although the comet has not yet a fully developed tail, it is an object of singular beauty, and is visible to the naked eye. It is now moving toward the southwest, and is headed for the sun.

The rings of Saturn, four satellites of Jupiter, the double cluster Perseus and the beautiful quadruple star Epsilon Lira were other objects observed with the glasses. After the observations were given by members of the section in Mr. Baumgardt's library. Some photographs of the moon, taken at the Lick Observatory, were also exhibited.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE COURTS AND OFFICES.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Street Superintendent McGuire yesterday called the Council that Contractor A. W. Scott is not properly sprinkling the streets, and that he has refused to obey the directions of the sprinkling inspectors.

Fifteen charter amendments were approved by the Council last night. Two amendments were materially reduced in length by the Charter Revision Committee, and four dropped into the Council.

No agreement could be reached by the Council yesterday regarding the water rates, and postponement was taken until next week.

Supplementary McGuire was having the ultimate contract imposed by the Council yesterday, informing the Pacific Electric Railway Company that a proper car service must be provided on Temple street in thirty days.

The official Council proceedings, published by authority, will be found elsewhere in this page.

A curious conflict came up in the courts yesterday over the guardianship of a young girl named Edina Dolph. No settlement was reached.

A. W. Stork, charged with tampering with a little girl, was discharged from custody yesterday.

AT THE CITY HALL.
M'GUIRE TAKES FIRM STAND ON SPRINKLING.

NOTIFIES COUNCIL THAT STREETS ARE BEING RUINED.

Contractor Cross Committed to the Tender Mercies of the Council, Which Has Power to Penalize Him or Terminate the Contract at Its Pleasure.

Street sprinkling has brought about a crisis in municipal affairs. Driven to desperation by the complaints of property owners and the arrogance of the contractor, Street Superintendent McGuire yesterday made formal report of the violations of contract to the Council. That body may deduct from the monthly stipend of the contractor such sum as is deemed proper or it may terminate the contract on ten days' written notice.

Now the City Fathers are face to face with the "tide which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." Residents of every ward have complained repeatedly to the Street Superintendent and their less fortunate representative about the new sprinkling schedule. Superintendent McGuire has done his duty as he sees it, and the eyes of the people are on the Councilmen.

It has been customary for protestants to seek relief at the hands of their Councilmen. Almost always the result has been to the Street Superintendent's favor, so far as the complaint of the complainant, and the street sprinkling inspector is charged with the task of seeing that the contractor sprinkles the streets. But the case of that austere individual is short. In most cases no improvement results.

For some reason, not only the street sprinklers, but contractors seem to believe they have the support of the Council in whatever they do, and not infrequently they are given to understand that it will be well to let them if any fault is found. Indeed, a disposition to favor contractors on public work to the detriment of the service has frequently been shown by the Council.

Constitution was caused among some of the City Fathers by the proposal of the Council to increase the compensation of the commissioners appointed by the authorities. Yesterday Superintendent McGuire was instructed to withdraw the report of at least modify it. Not only did the contractor, two or three of the Councilmen, it is asserted and not denied, tried to ward off the impending blow, but the contractor, in his defense, has frequently told his clients that he is not to be compelled to accept the terms of the proposed amendment.

Superintendent McGuire was given a week to consider the proposal, and informed the Councilmen who besought him to change his mind that his patience had been exhausted and called the meeting to act at once. He has attempted in past to remedy some of the evils of street sprinkling by milder means.

Cross, the street sprinkling contractor, and Capt. John Cross, his brother, were much in evidence about the hall. They held a long conference with the Councilmen, but even the sage of Nine Wards was unable to extricate them from the predicament, although he used every effort.

Superintendent McGuire has refused to approve the demand of Contractor Cross, amounting to $400, for street sprinkling. Instead, he left the Council to decide how much deduction should be made. While he would not state definitely yesterday for what amount he would accept, he approved, he intimated that one-half the amount is all that the contractor deserves.

The Superintendent's report was referred by the Council to the committee of the whole, which is appointed under the charter.

The four amendments were then dropped, all the Councilmen voting in favor of the motion except Walker.

Tomorrow morning the fifteen amendments to be submitted will be published in full in the city's official paper.

after all obligations shall cease thereunder.

Therefore I would recommend that your honorable body take such action as to the violations of the terms of said contract as you may deem just and appropriate to propose.

It is expected that the committee of the next meeting, much to their disgrace, will make some report at the next meeting. Much to their disgrace, the entire responsibility for street sprinkling contract will be put upon their shoulders, in the manner contemplated by the contract. They cannot make the Street Superintendent responsible for the same in the official paper.

In full to meet Powers the Salvation Army was granted permission to place boxes for the collection of money for famine funds on Franklin Spring street and Fourth street and Broadway.

Pettitions and protests relating to the condition of Burlington avenue between Tenth and Pico streets were filed yesterday. It was the decision of the Council that the proceedings have no bearing on the franchise in consideration of the case. Pierce declared that the Council should not be swayed by every passing breeze, and declared that he will move to pay the necessary sum whenever they are presented.

Unanimous approval was given an ordinance making subordinate services for the fire department as already printed.

The ordinance is in accordance with the recommendations of the Fire Commission.

Contractors Pierce and Walker were appointed a special committee to fix the assessment districts for opening portions of Valencia and Grand View streets.

MUST PROVIDE.

TEMPLE-STREET CARS.

Within thirty days the Pacific Electric Railway Company must provide proper car service on Temple street or the Board of Education will recommend to the Council that the franchise be declared forfeited.

This report was brought in yesterday afternoon as the result of an agitation by residents along the thoroughfare for a street-car service that will supplement the old worn-out cable line. The findings will be embodied in the following language:

"In reference to the petition by citizens concerning poor car service on Temple street, we recommend that the street car company be notified that unless steps are taken inside of thirty days to relieve the situation and give the people better car service, the franchise be declared forfeited."

This report will probably be laid before the Board of Education, and the city will be notified that unless steps are taken inside of thirty days to relieve the situation and give the people better car service, the franchise be declared forfeited.

The girl named Edina Dolph, who demanded that she be allowed to change guardians—chooses the relative of a man who is suing to get her property away.

Rivals for the honor of acting as a father to a buxom young girl in need of a guardian mixed in a sensational proceeding in the Superior Court yesterday.

There was something so queer about the case, something so odd, so suspicious that Judge Smith passed the whole thing up to the regular probate judge, Hon. Lucien Shaw—who is away on a short vacation.

Here was a girl named Edina Dolph, who demanded that she be allowed to change guardians—chooses the relative of a man who is suing to get her property away from her.

There was a still more singular fact, however. Judge Hester, the attorney who is against the girl in the suit for her property, has her attorney in this proceeding to discharge the old guardian and take on a new.

Judge Smith was very frank in saying that he thought Judge Hester's claim was "a little bit hairy" and that the whole case was "pretty well related all around."

The Dolph girl is 24 years old, but she is a small child in a dazzling costume, and answered the court's questions with flippant self-assurance. She was asked if she wanted to go to the trial with her guardian, instead of L. Appleby, who has been looking after her estate (which consists of a house recently sold for $1,000) since she was a small child.

"Why do you want to change?" asked Judge Smith; "why are you not willing that Appleby should continue to be your guardian?"

"Well, he called me names, and things. I never did like him, anyhow," she said, smiling.

"What do you want?" Mr. Norton asked the court.

"Because I don't like Mr. Appleby."

"How did you like Appleby come to be your guardian, then?"

"Aw, well, he persuaded my grandmother," she said, giving a tilt to her head.

"Do you don't like Mr. Appleby?" said the court, scrutinizing her sharply.

"State if he ever made improper propositions to you," said Justice Hester.

"Aw, well, if I could come and live with him just the same as though I was his mistress I would wear silks and diamonds."

"And yet you say that your grandmother wanted Mr. Appleby for your guardian?" asked the court, in astonishment.

"Oh, grandmother was kind of feeble-minded, and she is dead now," she said.

The grandmother mentioned was Mrs. Louise N. Butler, who died a few years ago of cancer. Being displeased with the mode of life of her daughter, she had given her all the money she had, and then a Mr. Priest, she deeded her property to her two grandchildren, this girl Edina and her brother.

Mrs. Butler, a sister of the old grandmother, went to her sister, Mrs. Priest, and persuaded her to deed her whatever she owned to her daughter, Edina.

With this as a weapon Butler brought suit against the children to set aside the deed. She lost the suit, but has taken the appeal to the Supreme Court.

The most amicable feelings seem to exist between the litigants.

They asked her yesterday if she was not afraid of being deprived of her property.

"I am not afraid of being deprived of my property," she said. "If he wins the suit, I will get the property back."

Mrs. Butler, a sister of the old grandmother, went to her sister, Mrs. Priest, and persuaded her to deed her whatever she owned to her daughter, Edina.

It is a fact, however, that one year the corporation failed to secure the special license it operated under a racing track.

The special license granted yesterday carries with it all the privileges of the saloon, and it is operative from October 1 to November 1.

Water rates are to be postponed until the Council votes to amend the ordinance by ordinance.

Summer Safeguards

It is the duty of the head of every house to provide against the health-hurting poison of summer. Promptness in treatment of these maladies would often prevent serious disease, before death—MUNYON.

MUNYON—Homeopathic Home Remedies are the surest safeguards against disease in the heat of summer. They should be bought and kept on hand, in case of sudden development of the symptoms of any trouble the proper cure for that trouble should immediately be obtained at the druggist's.

For indigestion and dyspepsia take MUNYON's Digestive Cure. For headache from heat, or caused by nervousness or prostration, take MUNYON's Headache Cure—it will cure in three minutes. For blisters, jaundice, and liver trouble MUNYON's Liver Cure gives specific relief. For disorders of the blood, and eruptions that are chiefly occurring in summer, take MUNYON's Blood Cure. MUNYON's Rheumatism Cure is felt usually in one to three hours and in a few days cures all forms of rheumatism. MUNYON's Pain-Reliever speedily and positively cures all forms of piles and is especially efficacious in alleviating the pain intensified during hot weather. You are subject to chills and shivers? MUNYON's Chills and Shivers will be fortified with MUNYON's D. C. and C. cure. MUNYON's Constipation Cure has relieved thousands of the most obstinate cases where every other cure has failed.

Two of the Millions.

THE WISE MAN'S WATERLOO.

He studied human nature till he knew it through and through.
He knew all mankind's faces and knew knowledge grew and grew;
He wrote seven books on ethics that the critics read with awe,
He was a wise man, Nature's every mood and law.

He was listed with the wise ones who had cleared mistakes away,
Till a foolish little woman came on smiled at him every day:
Others said "only a fool can be so wise," but he never said it,
But alas! he never saw it, and was cray, poor old boy.—Rev. H. K. in Chicago Record-Herald.

Diplomatic Maid.

The Caller: Is Miss Araminta a housemaid? She is not.
The Maid (who has received some instructions): She is not.
A voice from the upper landing: Who are I am, Janet.
Janet (after a long沉思ing): Apt to be out when you call, sir.—(Cleveland Plain Dealer).
